

AGILITY INTELLIGENCE – CLOUD READINESS ASSESSMENT

The Agility Intelligence Cloud Readiness Assessment service uses our proven tool set to analyse your entire data centre from the physical and virtual machines down to the application workloads layer. The assessment produces actionable intelligence on cloud options and the best next steps on your digital transformation journey.

Service Description

The service is delivered via our tools installed on a server in your environment. We collect and analyse baseline and performance metrics across core areas of your data centre over a predefined period. A comprehensive report then provides information on how cloud migration could benefit or complement your business, along with recommendations for beginning to build a strategy.

Technology Scope

The Agility Intelligence – Cloud Readiness Assessment service is deployed in your existing environment.

It will collect and report across multiple data centre and cloud platforms, including: physical servers, VMware vSphere and Microsoft Hyper-V hypervisors, and public cloud services including Azure and AWS.

The data gathered enables CAE to intelligently review your environment and provide a starting point for a potential cloud strategy.

Our initial reports can be taken away for your reference or used to generate a deeper analysis to create a full cloud strategy and migration road map.

How do I invoke this service?

Contact your Account Team to invoke this service and begin your Agility Intelligence journey today.

Should there be any further questions outside of these commitments, these can be directed to the specialist Agility Intelligence team at CAE, available via agilityintelligence@iamcae.com.

Cost

The Agility Intelligence – Cloud Readiness Assessment is a free of charge service that runs for 10 days, with a report and content review session included. Access to additional detailed reports is also available following the review session.

Journey

Agility Intelligence is all about automation, saving you time. The reports provide you with easy to digest information to help you start planning a transformation journey, which could involve cloud for DR, infrastructure by lift and shift or moving specific workloads. Most importantly, the recommendations are personal to your environment.
